

Executive Order by Mallon for something to Come of Law Case and that there be Committees Set, 09-14-2026

I have more than a quarter-century of merits and wealth concerning the United States and that is still not worked with or honored yet. I made presentations in various ways and on various levels through the years, including the recent years. There is a difference between what is involved being dealt with and that not being done. My materials have been at the White House in Washington, D.C. since the early 1980s and have been there in the recent years and currently active times, too. The times were years of the modern and advanced United States society where much requires and is relevant all the time, and plus, I am a real person with rights and interests to be regarded and dealt with in rewarding and honoring terms, so when there is something substantial involved, there should not be neglect and should be a regard.

I communicated as best as I could through the 1980s, and excessively, nothing was worked out with me and not even good faith efforts were made to take care of anything involved. By the end of the 1980s, I had a unique patent, a patent of the design of God's Miracle Cross. In the beginning of the 1990s, there was the first Iraq War that happened, and with the knowledge I had of the previous 10 years of relevancy, I saw many issues and peculiarities (Also see my, Iraq War Book with a Law Emphasis, 1992). I appropriately communicated further, but no communication was made to me, and nothing was worked out with me. This situation continued so excessively that I had to make law cases in U.S. courts, and I often remember thinking that I never should have had to make law cases at all. My communication, what was involved, and myself should have already been dealt with in right ways, and law cases should not have been needed at all. There should have been plenty there without needing law cases. Because there was so much left out in those times, including with the law cases, these law cases have to be revisited and be updated in terms of ensuring everything involved on my part is secured as being known and understood as being highly honorable as it truly was instead of leaving out everything honorable and causing some skewed perspective.

Then following in the 1990s, what was involved with the law cases was not just worked on or worked out. I was not paid concerning any of the law work I did on or involving those law cases or anything involved, my law degrees or law credentials were not worked out, and that was certainly not right and not dealing with anything involved. Although not known or regarded enough in these years was that I was the discoverer of God's Miracle Cross, which was societally significant, and I worked with it through the previous 10 years. Everything remained requiring, and I just worked and worked as best as I could through those years of the 1990s. I would often look to see if I was dealt with in any way because I was a good person, a young-youthful person, had a lot of merits and potential, and already communicated, including with the law cases. There was nothing relevant presented to me through the rest of the 1990s, everything remained requiring, and I worked and worked through those years.

In the 1990s, I had a company incorporated and communicated about to relevant parties involved—God’s Miracle Cross Company, Inc., which was incorporated in Pennsylvania in 1995. These parties again, dealt with nothing and just left me there not dealt with. They made everything amount to nothing, but that was not right to me and was not taking care of anything involved. That was out of more years of everything, a company incorporated, formal presentations made, and I also had a unique display copyright before the end of the 1990s—VAu000453445 / 1999-02-10.

Of course, everyone knows the historic times following the 1990s and, as I was saying, with everything involved still not dealt with yet. Some may distort those times, but those who went through the times, know what was real and was not and may have many legitimate suspicions about what they knew or thought was real and what actually went on through those times. Next, in the early 2000s, the second Iraq War happened. That war should have been ended by in 2003, instead of just starting, but that year of 2003 was caused to be the starting year of the war, and this second Iraq War was continued to a far longer and excessive point, which was in the end of 2011. I myself continued with my appropriate communication in relevant directions, including to the White House and the Republican Party, and I added on an MBA (Master of Business Administration) degree, a newly published book (Dream Book: From the Book of Dreams, 2006), and the starting and advancement of a doctoral program and an included dissertation.

The next years of the 2000s up to before 2020, included much meritorious on my part, and I continued my communication to the White House and working and working. I had to continue working many hours at standard societal companies because the people at the White House still did not adequately deal with anything yet, even though there was very much substantial material from me since in 2017 and as can be seen on my website, <https://www.godsmiraclecross.com/perspectives>. In 2019, I established the U.S.

Department of Sovereignty, completed a post-doctoral edition of my business dissertation, and I purchased and moved into a new house. I had previously all I described and including continued communication to the White House because of so much substantial, important, relevant, and active, as was described.

In the 2020s I continued with much meritorious and substantial on my part, including concerning the United States, as can be seen on my website, <https://www.godsmiraclecross.com/realm>. Everyone was caused to have to go through the covid times, and I continued working and working through those times but fully with working from home. My student loans were fully discharged in 2024, following a California Federal Court class action law case that continued since 2019, and much about this situation was included in my material with the White House.

I also added on securities licensing to my credentials. I already had insurance licensing. Thus I could and did work professionally with insurance and securities, which meant that I was advanced and significantly credentialed to work in the financial industry. I abundantly communicated and kept everything active, meritorious, and loaded with potential on my part.

Further in 2024, I also worked more on my dissertation. I already had all involved in my background as described and including with law work I myself personally did and that was all good and highly honorable on my part. I remembered many of the law work times I went through in the past, and I still had much of my own personal law work that was still meritorious. Being that law was an original area involved and myself still having so much meritorious and honorable but not rewarded or honored yet, I decided to bridge the past 30 years together and make my business post-doctoral dissertation into a law dissertation. That is what I did and had done before the end of 2024. I then also appropriately communicated to the United States and to Harvard Law School.

I actually continued through all of the 2020s with everything on my part involving the United States and without any gap because I did not have everything resulting from the current political administration and had everything concerning the United States itself, regardless of the particular administration. I specifically said about this matter involving the United States itself, and I did that by making seven claims that concerned the United States and not only politically-oriented people.

The seven claims I made concerning the United States went into 2025 and were continuously worked on and communicated by me through all of 2025. As I reported many times, my seven claims were communicated to and present in the White House through the whole year of 2025, and because there was nothing yet, I made an SF-95 form in October 2025. With the SF-95 form, if there is nothing by after six months, a Federal Court law case can be made. I had to make the Federal Court law case. Currently, the time is coming up on six months of the Federal Court law case, 26-cv-02712, being active, and nothing has been worked out yet. Everything is still excessively requiring, and that is why everything is there like it is, valid and active, and highly long-enduring, meritorious and honorable on my part.

I need my money I am supposed to have. I have to be paid as I am supposed to be. There are supposed to be and should be plenty of opportunities that I have. Many offers should be available to me and on good, advanced, and successful levels. I am still not seeing any of this appropriate situation I am supposed to be seeing. That is why there is the Federal Court law case, 26-cv-02712, but that law case has to be treated seriously, and something has to come of the law case.

The situation highly seems to me to be that people of times before mine were dealt with, regarded, and given opportunities, but they never did any of that themselves when it came to them doing things they were supposed to do concerning others. They got all that regard and publicity—public acclaim, but they did not do any of that themselves. These people are the ones that allowed all other kinds of people to have more benefits than they should have had, especially comparatively, because they had all the legitimate people not being dealt with and with nothing that could provide them with any benefits or sustenance. A long amount of time of many years—decades—was caused to go by like this, too. That left too many of the wrong people getting in where they should not have been and not enough of the right people going forward in the times and then after a long amount of time.

The current situation appears to be that no matter what there is of merit, nothing will be dealt with; nothing will be worked out; nothing will be enough to serve any purpose to handle the situation. Corrections are greatly needed, and the active law case, 26-cv-02712, has to serve its purposes, if this currently active similar but vastly different law case is going to be let to do that following the first law cases 30 years ago.

I have plenty active right now. I have plenty that can add to the societal times, including with the current circumstances that has militaristic activity going on between the United States and Iran and involving the rest of the Middle East. The Ukraine-Russian situation is also similarly still lingering on like this, too, because these vital areas relevant have been so much neglected and left out from being able to add to advancement toward a mutually peaceful and prosperous situation. I presently do not see anything being let to be anything. Even with as much as is present right now and after so long, I think that all that substantial is going to be caused to be not enough for anything or to serve any purpose. I think that nothing is going to come of it and that too is going to be caused to not be enough, although that is not what one may reasonably think and is not the way it is supposed to be, but that is what these people involved have been doing and causing. Even with as much as there is present right now and as important as it is in many ways, these people involved are going to cause there to be nothing instead.

Again, that is why something has to come of the law case. These people involved will not do any better themselves. No matter how many chances they have and no matter how many opportunities they are provided with, they will not do more or better themselves, and they will not give anyone else any chance at all, no matter what there is. They do not provide opportunities, and they enable nothing all the time. There just plain has to be better.

Therefore, there is this Executive ORDER for something constructive and honorable to come of the law case, 26-cv-02712, and for there to be enough formal, fully funded, committees set with the United States to review and update these areas concerning the United States government.
