

Executive ORDER by Mallon to Stabilize Social Security Fund, 09/25/2026

Social Security has to be made right. There has to be more than enough money in the Social Security fund for Social Security to efficiently make its payments to the millions of Americans on Social Security. People pay into Social Security through the times they are working, and then later after retiring, social security is collected as a form of a pay. Social Security recipients are paid Social Security payments, and these payments are important to these people and may be the only money received as a pay. For years, everyone has been hearing that the Social Security fund is running out, so something has to be done to make sure the fund does not run out and can remain being around to serve its purposes of paying retirees their pay.

While people are in their working years, a Social Security tax is collected from their paychecks. This tax amount is accumulated and stored in the Social Security fund that pays out to people collecting Social Security. The trouble has been that more people in the present times are retiring and collecting Social Security than people who are working and paying into the Social Security fund. More money is coming out of the fund than is going into the fund. The fund will run out if this situation continues and people will no longer be able to be paid as much or at all from the Social Security fund, which would ruin Social Security from being a good thing for millions of Americans.

Somehow more money has to go into the fund than there has recently been. There has to be an increase of the money put into the Social Security fund. Where is that increase of money coming from? If charging more of a Social Security tax, working people would have less of their current income, and taxes, including Social Security taxes, are already up noticeably high. If increasing the number of people in the working pool so that additional Social Security taxes are paid, there would have to be that increase of working people in the United States, or perhaps, the United States will come into more money by being successful and then can add into the Social Security fund.

More working people or more money to add into the Social Security fund would be good and would take care of this fund situation, but this funding increase is not likely to happen. Where would more working people come from, and an increase of working people would also increase the retiring people, at least eventually, unless always steadily increasing the number of working people, which is also not a likely situation when the United States is not in newly formed, growing times. Likewise, the United States increasing economically is not the current years situation, and as much of any financial increase the United States has, the rate of inflation negates that increase with high expenditure and leaves nothing left to add to an area such as the Social Security fund.

What can be done then to secure the Social Security fund to be what it needs to be to continue serving its important purposes and being successful? There is God's Miracle Cross global currency of crosses and faces. The United States is the primary country that has duties and debts to work on securing, establishing, administering, advancing, and prospering the God's Miracle Cross global currency throughout the United States and around the world. For the United States to do the work on the God's Miracle Cross global currency is a way the United States can be earning money and adding to its own funds to use for purposes such as adding money into the Social Security fund. Various plans can be made for the United States to be working with and advancing the God's Miracle Cross money and be making its own money and having some of that increased money made be going into the Social Security fund.

There may be some other possibilities, too. For example, with as much as is spent on Social Security for the year, that much God's Miracle Cross money can be put into the Social Security fund. That can be done on a running basis through the year, a lump-sum basis after the year, or both. Some reliable and worthy methods can be set to have God's Miracle Cross global currency adding to the Social Security fund. There would then not be a depleting of the fund as the time is going by, and there would be much less worrying.

I explained about God's Miracle Cross money in many other places. This money is a global currency. The money is not only from or of the United States, but the United States is the primary country that has to secure and advance this global currency. The value of the currency is set with a money cross being equal to one dollar and a money face being equal to one cent, crosses and faces comparable to dollars and cents. The value of the God's Miracle Cross global currency is backed by the power and national functionality of the United States and divine life forces and spirituality of the deity creator of God's Miracle Cross, and with the deity's direct involvement, there is not a limitation to the United States.

God's Miracle Cross money is a global currency that can be used anywhere around the world. This currency can be used as an exclusive currency or as a reserve currency that backs up a local country's currency. A country can use its local currency and the global God's Miracle Cross currency as a back-up or reserve currency or can just use God's Miracle Cross currency as the money in the country. God's Miracle Cross money is in addition to a local country's money because, as is the similar situation with the United States, this money does not come from the local country and is not limited to the local country. This money—God's Miracle Cross money—is global and is from and of a deity who is not on Earth but has rights, power, and wealth on Earth.

Countries and people of those countries have a chance to increase their wealth with God's Miracle Cross money, which is a global currency. The various countries of Earth can use the global currency to bolster their wealth as is the situation described here with the United States bolstering its Social Security fund. There are many good uses for this global currency, which is wealth that increases. Social Security is an area that the United States needs to increase. God's Miracle Cross money—global currency—gives the United States the ability to stabilize its Social Security fund that greatly needs that stabilization in the present times.

Therefore, there is this Executive ORDER for the United States and Americans to use God's Miracle Cross money, which is global currency, to stabilize the Social Security fund and have social security functioning successfully for the millions of Americans affected now and in the future.
