

Reflections of Myself Dealt With so I Can Represent Others, 08/18/2026

I am a professional person. I work professionally and on an advanced enough level so that the work done is enough to take care of the issues involved and so that the money involved is enough to take care of the financial matters. My professional work level has enough authority to be considered as having sufficient expertise and credentials to do my professional work and to express my findings. My work is enough for the work, so more work does not have to be done, and the work that was done has to count and serve its purposes. When I work in an official capacity, my work could have more importance and a boost of authority, so has to be known and understood as being what it is and as being necessary to regard and treat right in an efficient manner.

One of the first things necessary for working professionally is the person's own, such as my own, credentials. The person's own credentials have to be adequate to work on behalf of someone else or to represent someone else or some group of people, especially if getting paid. I have a law case, 26-cv-02712, I made in the present times, 2026, and in that law case, I expressed about my professional credentials requiring to be secured because that was not previously done adequately and was requiring for me to be able to represent other people or groups of people, especially if being paid. I have to have myself dealt with adequately before I can work on behalf of other people and do work that is representative of them. Some professional areas or fields are advanced in these ways because they have intricacies and important details and concepts that have to be understood and included, and there are certain levels necessary for professional care and functioning.

For me to work with insurance on behalf of other people, my insurance licensing has to be set with the governmental authority and with the professional insurance organization. For me to work with securities or finances, my professional securities and financial licenses have to be set with the governmental authority and with the professional securities or financial organization. For me to work with law on behalf of other people or organizations, my law credentials have to be set with the governmental authority and with an appropriate professional organization. The appropriate governmental authority with me could be a few, but the one most standard and fitting is the United States government, and the professional organization is similar, so that means that the most fitting professional organization is the United States government. Therefore, there is my current law case that I made in a federal court for this purpose of securing my credentials for me so that I can do things—work—on behalf of other people.

My law case was necessary because my credentials were not being recognized enough. I was not being worked with adequately or appropriately as too long an amount of time was going by. The time going by with the deficiency was causing an off-balance or a skew to my credentials or any work I would do, and I was being extensively hindered at working with other people. The situation was not right like that and was not fair or balanced, in the society or working professionally through those times.

Usually, there is some sort of academic qualification and professional certification. I have many of them already, but with so much not being included in the society and professional domain for so long, a skew and deficiency built up. Too much that was important was being left out and was not adding to or enabling things to be done. These things would have normally been able to be done with normal accumulation, but that normal accumulation was missing because of the built-up skew and deficiency. In other words, I earned a doctorate in business in 2012, but I was not dealt with, regarded, rewarded, or honored as earning my doctorate in 2012 and have not been yet, when the current time is in 2026.

With working with law, I myself really should have been worked with in this professional capacity back in the 1990s, but as of in 2026, that work on the credentialing was still not done. That left a lot of law active, involved, and requiring but not being taken care of adequately as the time was passing by, and especially over a long amount of time. I built up in other ways professionally, such as with insurance and securities, but there was always law involved and in the background, too, and working with law, as I was supposed to work with, was always a higher level and with more pay than I was being paid. I was reminded of the law work I did in the past when I worked on my student loans being discharged because that law case, Sweet v. DeVos / Cardona, No. 19-cv-3674, N.D. Cal, was not one of my law cases, so my particular issues were not being addressed in that class action law case that was only for the issue of student loans. These times were the historical times when student loans discharging was at peak, including concerning the U.S. Department of Education, the schools, and the universities involved. I was thus reminded of the law work I did in the past, but that did not mean I could do everything about it at the time, so I just did the little I could do and that was right, legal, and successful for me to do. Also, I could not and did not represent anyone, and I just included a little of my own work as was right for me to do at the time.

In 2025, I communicated so extensively to the White House since January, that I should have been dealt with in the time passage by October 2025, 10 months into 2025, and because I was not, I made an SF-95 (Standard Form, SF-95) form with the United States being the party involved, liable for Trump and the Trump administration. The SF-95 form allows the other party, such as the United States, six months to reply to the contents of the SF-95 form, and if there is not that timely reply, a law case can be made in a Federal Court. That is what I did, and I advised plenty along the way of what I would do if I did not receive a reply within the six months of time going by. Thus, I was reminded again of the law work I did in the past, 30 years ago, when I really wanted and earned my law credentials because of the merits, rights, and laws involved.

When reaching six months without a reply to my SF-95 form, I made a federal court law case, as I said I would do and as the SF-95 form justified me to do. All this goes into me being dealt with myself before I can represent anyone else. I did this law case pro se, pronounced – pro say, which means that I represent myself. I am not representing others in this law case, even though there is relevancy and persuasive authority. When the case is done, there will ideally be enough of the full authority needed to handle these areas of current years professional credentialing, including with the field of law. I want my lawyer's license and law degrees. My lawyer's license has to be valid and active for the whole country, U.S.A., and my law degrees have to be from a law school such as Harvard Law School, because that was the law school I selected 30 years ago. Some of this work being done is as a compensation to me and is to make up to me from the past 30 years ago when I was not dealt with and could not benefit from anything through that time. Otherwise, Harvard Law School would not be involved, and I would not have bothered with Harvard Law School. With the situation being the way it was, though, I had Harvard Law School selected and involved 30 years ago, so I had Harvard Law School involved again.

I had everything requiring to be dealt with in my law case. I mean that, as I said, I earned my business doctorate in 2012, but with the situation of the involved university, which was the University of Phoenix, being what it was, the university did not let me receive my doctorate in 2012 and did not do its work on the completion of the doctoral degree program. I truly earned my doctorate at that time in 2012, though. I had completed the standard academic courses of the doctoral program and had completed a very good, more than passable, business doctoral dissertation. I then went on to complete business post-doctoral work in 2019, and that went beyond the university and to the White House and with me having an excellent post-doctoral dissertation in business. I still did not receive any benefit or recognition for achieving the post-doctoral completion. I eventually reached the point where I was not only reminded of the past law work I did 30 years earlier, but I bridged that past law work together with the present to make my post-doctoral business dissertation into a doctoral law dissertation. I can now either receive an S.J.D. doctoral law degree from Harvard Law School, or I can receive a full set of law degrees, J.D. (Juris Doctor) degree, LL.M. (Master of Laws) degree, and an S.J.D. (Doctor of Juridical Science) degree, from Harvard Law School.

The situation of Harvard Law School issuing my law degrees to me has to be remembered as being a compensation made to me because of the law and rights involved concerning more than 30 years. I am a person who 30 years earlier already was the discoverer of God's Miracle Cross, a societally historic object. In addition, the societal situation at this current time of in 2026, when United States and Iran warring activity has been going on, is one of such extraordinary circumstances where the S.J.D. degree should be issued by Harvard Law School as a significant and important contribution to the learning and advancement of the field and society.

With the current law case, being worked through, I would be dealt with enough to have my law credentials and would have enough money resulting to me, including with pay, that I could and would be ready to represent other people. At this point with me, obviously there has already been a significant amount of time that has gone by, a far longer than usual amount of time, so the level of my representation of people comes in at the U.S. Presidency level. I have to be dealt with concerning the U.S. Presidency and have to be able to represent all the people of the United States and have persuasive to binding authority concerning all people of Earth. This is a particular situation and one with many specific laws involved, so considering all these relevant and important laws involved, the United States empowerment systems have to be looked at and may require some alterations. With me concerning the U.S. Presidency and all these substantial rights, laws, and societal times involved, I expect exclusive rights to the U.S. Presidency by the end of 2028 for going into 2029 and continuing. I expect to be, as I should be, dealt with more and more from now onward exclusively as being the U.S. President so that by in 2029 the situation is optimal for all involved with the United States, including with me and all the people I represent.

I continue to keep up with the law case I have active right now in a United States Federal Court, 26-cv-02712. I have already been through a very long time. I do not want to have to go too much longer before there is progress, so I am looking all the time.
